MS Dalton Asia Pacific UCITS Fund Share Class A USD (ISIN: IE00B96W7N49)

The MS Dalton Asia Pacific UCITS Fund (the "Fund") is a sub-fund of FundLogic Alternatives Plc (the "Company").

OBJECTIVES AND INVESTMENT POLICY

- The Fund's objective is to seek high returns relative to the risk profile of the portfolio, and in excess of the MSCI Daily Total Return Net AC (All Country) Asia Pacific Index (Bloomberg Ticker NDUEACAP) (the "Index"), regardless of whether stock markets are falling or rising. The Fund will seek to do this by buying and selling directly and indirectly (through financial contracts known as derivatives), mainly shares of companies listed or traded on markets in the Asia Pacific region, including emerging markets, across all sectors
- The investment process involves buying undervalued and selling overvalued financial instruments
- The Fund may not always maintain a balance between financial instruments bought and sold, thus performance could reflect the performance of the markets
- The Fund may invest in a wide range of instruments including shares and share-like instruments, fixed income instruments (corporate and government bonds, which may be above or below investment grade), collective investment schemes (including exchanged traded funds) and foreign exchange contracts either directly or through derivatives
- The Fund may be leveraged up to 100% of its net asset value. Leverage is measured using the commitment approach
- Costs incurred in the use of derivatives may have a negative effect on the Fund's performance
- Additionally, the costs of buying and selling investments are paid out of the Fund's assets and may have a negative impact on the Fund's performance. These costs are in addition to those listed in the section headed 'Charges' below
- The investment manager monitors the Fund daily and has discretion to change the asset allocation
- Any income from the Fund will be re-invested and the Fund will not pay out any dividends
- The value of the Fund is calculated and published daily except as set out in the Company's prospectus and the sub-fund's supplement (collectively "Prospectus"). Investors can buy and/or sell back their shares every Friday

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

- The Fund is assigned to this category because its share price is expected to fluctuate moderately due to the investment policy applied

You should be aware that:

- Past performance and/or simulated data may not be a reliable indicator of the Fund's future performance
- The lowest risk category does not indicate a risk free investment
- The risk and reward category shown above is not guaranteed and may move down or up over time
- The Fund is neither capital guaranteed nor protected
- There is no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective and you may lose money. The Fund's performance will be affected by market movements

Other risks that you should be aware of, which may not be captured by the Risk and Reward Indicator, include:

- The investment manager will invest in shares of companies domiciled in emerging countries, including Russia, which may be volatile and vulnerable to political or social instability and varying levels of government supervision and professional regulation. Clearing, settlement and registration systems in such markets may be less developed and may result in delays and difficulties in settling trades. Such markets may also impose trading limits in certain securities and may also be subject to risks specific to emerging markets, which include, a lack of publically available information about securities and varying accounting standards
- The Fund may use certain investment strategies that could result in the Fund losing money in a rising market
- The entity with whom the Fund enters into derivative contracts may become unable to meet its financial obligations under the contract
- The use of derivatives involves a higher level of complexity than a direct investment and may multiply the gains or losses of the Fund on a given investment or its investments generally
- Investment in the Fund may be affected by operational risks at the investment manager, the administrator and other service providers to the Fund. The Investment Manager manages the Fund and so the success of the Fund depends, among other things, upon the ability of the Investment Manager to manage the asset allocation of the Fund
- As the Fund's assets may be valued in currencies other than the Fund's base currency, the performance of the Fund may be down or up due to changes in foreign exchange rates
- In certain instances, the directors of the Company may temporarily suspend trading in Fund shares and this may affect your ability to buy or sell shares

- The Fund may invest in shares of small to medium companies. These may be less liquid, have narrower market penetrations, less diverse product lines and fewer resources than larger companies, which may make their prices more volatile
- The Fund may invest in companies through initial public offerings, and such investment has an additional level of risk, including a lack of liquidity
